7. Image and intellectual property rights:

- 7.1 Participants grant UBER EATS a free, exclusive licence to all exploitation rights – including, but not limited to, the rights of reproduction, distribution, public communication and transformation – that may correspond to them over the content that, where appropriate, is submitted to participate in the Campaign, as well as over the rights to their image – including their name and nickname – so that UBER EATS can communicate its participation in the Campaign in any modality, format, medium and/or support known or that may be known in the future (including, but not limited to, audiovisual, printed, audio and/or digital media, digital repositories, social networks, computer applications and/or databases). Likewise, the winners will collaborate in promotional activities in relation to the Campaign and authorize the capture and use of their image, name and voice during the enjoyment of the Prize in any commercial operation.
- 7.2 This licence is granted in a worldwide territorial scope, for the maximum term of protection of the rights in accordance with the applicable law and with the power to transfer it to third parties (in whole or in part, exclusively

The payment on account will not be passed on to the winners, being assumed by UBER EATS, so this payment will mean a higher value of the prize in kind received by the winners.

8.3 In the event that the winner is not a resident in Spain, the winner's place of tax residence must be taken into account to determine the tax treatment of the Prize, in accordance with the applicable tax legislation in force. For these purposes, and if applicable, the winner must provide the certificate of tax residence for the purposes of the Agreement for the avoidance of double taxation signed between Spain and the winner's country of residence.

10.3 The participant acknowledges that the Campaign may be promoted through the social media profiles (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, TikTok, Twitch, etc.) of UBER EATS. However, the Campaign is not sponsored, endorsed, or administered by social media platforms. The user completely disassociates himself from social networks and is aware that by participating in the Campaign he is providing his information and personal data to UBER EATS.

- 10.4 UBER EATS is exonerated from any liability in relation to the possible opinions or statements made by third parties and/or the media (without any intervention by UBER EATS) in relation to the participants and/or winners of the Campaign.

11. Modifications:

- 11.1 We have the right to extend, postpone, modify or suspend the Campaign if there are causes beyond our control or causes not attributable to us that justify it, trying as far as possible that such modifications do not negatively affect the participants. We will inform you of this circumstance and of the changes or new dates as soon as possible, and the participants will not have any right to receive or claim any compensation.
- 11.2 UBER EATS is empowered to, at its discretion, resolve any contingency not foreseen in the Legal Bases, based on the spirit and purpose of the same and we may adopt the necessary decisions for the resolution of incidents or unforeseen events that arise in the development of the Campaign as long as these do not unduly harm the participants and are equitable.

13. Legal Bases:

- 13.1 These Terms and Conditions will be accessible through the means in which we communicate the Campaign; they can be consulted and downloaded by the participants at the link indicated in the Particular Conditions throughout the period of the Campaign. UBER EATS will also keep a copy of the text and make it available to you upon request.
- 13.2 All the clauses of the Legal Terms and Conditions must be interpreted autonomously and independently. If by a final court judgment one of them is declared null and void, it will not affect the others and we will replace it with another that will have the same effect.
- 13.3 In the event of a contradiction between the Specific Conditions and the General Conditions, the Specific Conditions shall prevail.
